"Meeting Tomorrow's Challenge Today"

DILLARD UNIVERSITY
New Orleans, Louisiana

Foreword

Each generation inherits its legacy from the past. Our generation is keenly aware of the challenges our future promises. Dillard University, through the process of higher education, is one of the instruments we have chosen to help shape our minds and characters so that we might face the future with confidence. We realize that each year of study places us a step closer to whatever is to be our legacy, and we pledge to strive today to meet tomorrow's challenges with dignity and pride.

Table of Contents

Dedication

This edition of Le Diable Bleu is dedicated to one of the most outstanding members of the Dillard family, Dr. Daniel Thompson.

Dr. Thompson, one of the nation's leading ethnic sociologists, has provided not only for Dillard, but for countless other Black Colleges, one of the most contemporary appraisals of their present situation. In his most recent book, Private Black Colleges at the Cross Roads, he discusses the urgent need for private Black Colleges to make revolutionary changes in order to give the progress of American Blacks further impetus. Most importantly, however, he insists on the necessity of private Black colleges continuing.

The contributions Dr. Thompson has made to the Black community extend beyond the field of education; he has also written other books dealing with Black leadership, and the Black middle class. He has published many articles concerning the sociology of the Black experience, and is frequently quoted in such prominent publications as the New York Times and the Times Magazine.

Dr. Thompson's degrees include an A.B. from Clark College, A B.C. from Gammon Theological Seminary, an M.A. from Atlanta University, an A.M. from Harvard, and his Ph.D. from Columbia University. He is currently the Vice President of Academic Affairs at Dillard.

ADMINISTRATION AND DIVISIONS

From the President's Office

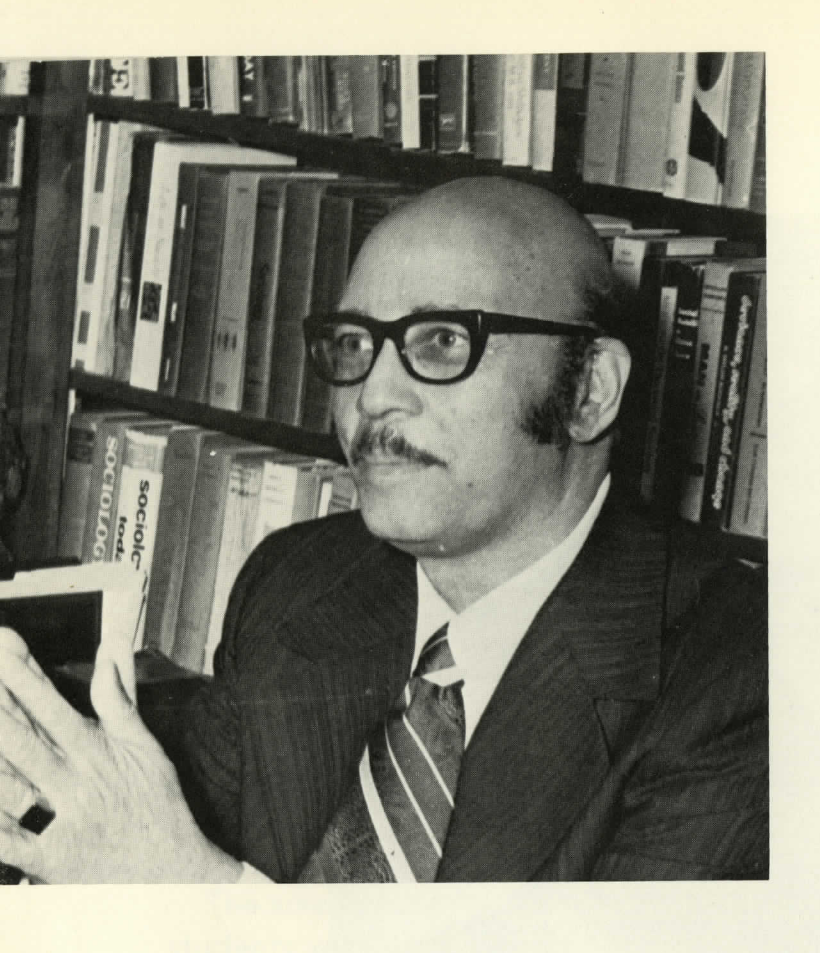

The sole reason for the existence of Dillard University is the promise that her students will help to make tomorrow better than today. As Dillard graduates, you especially represent this promise. Our hope is that you have become men and women of competence and concern. Both qualities are essential.

For faculty, staff, and trustees, I congratulate each of you on your achievement. I plead for your help in making Dillard more and more able to achieve her goals. Do not forget Alma Mater. Most of all, however, I ask you not to forget the world's great need for men and women of character.

The Division considers its role in the institution to be threefold: 1) that of preparing excellent elementary and secondary school teachers who have a sound education in the liberal arts, 2) that of preparing students for graduate work in the field of psychology, and 3) that of providing service courses for students in other Divisions in the University. The major fields of concentration in the Division are elementary education, health and physical education, and psychology.

Division of Nursing

The Division of Nursing is an outgrowth of the pressing demand for nurses to meet the basic health problems which affect the health of the entire nation. Under its present organization, it is a four-year curriculum which includes the biological and physical sciences, social sciences, humanities, medical sciences, nursing, and other general education courses. The Division proposes to prepare the student to function as a professional nurse in beginning practice for nursing and health services to the individual, the family, in the hospital and in the community, and to provide her with a foundation for continued self-development and graduate study. Upon completion of the entire curriculum students are awarded the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree.

Fair Dillard

Fair Dillard,
Gleaming white and spacious green,
We love thy every blade and tree;
We love thy breathless days, thy nights serene,
Thy halls where men are men and free.
Arise, O sons and daughters, hail thy queen,
And pledge for aye thy loyalty.

Fair Dillard,
Flaming love and learning's light
Teach us each day, each passing hour
A deep'ning love for beauty, truth, and right
Source of all nobleness and pow'r.
And through the joyous day, the dreaded night,
Forever guide, Alma Mater!
Forever guide, Alma Mater!

Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity

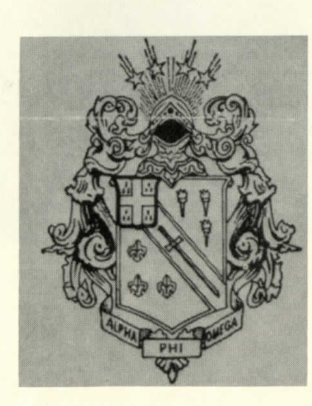

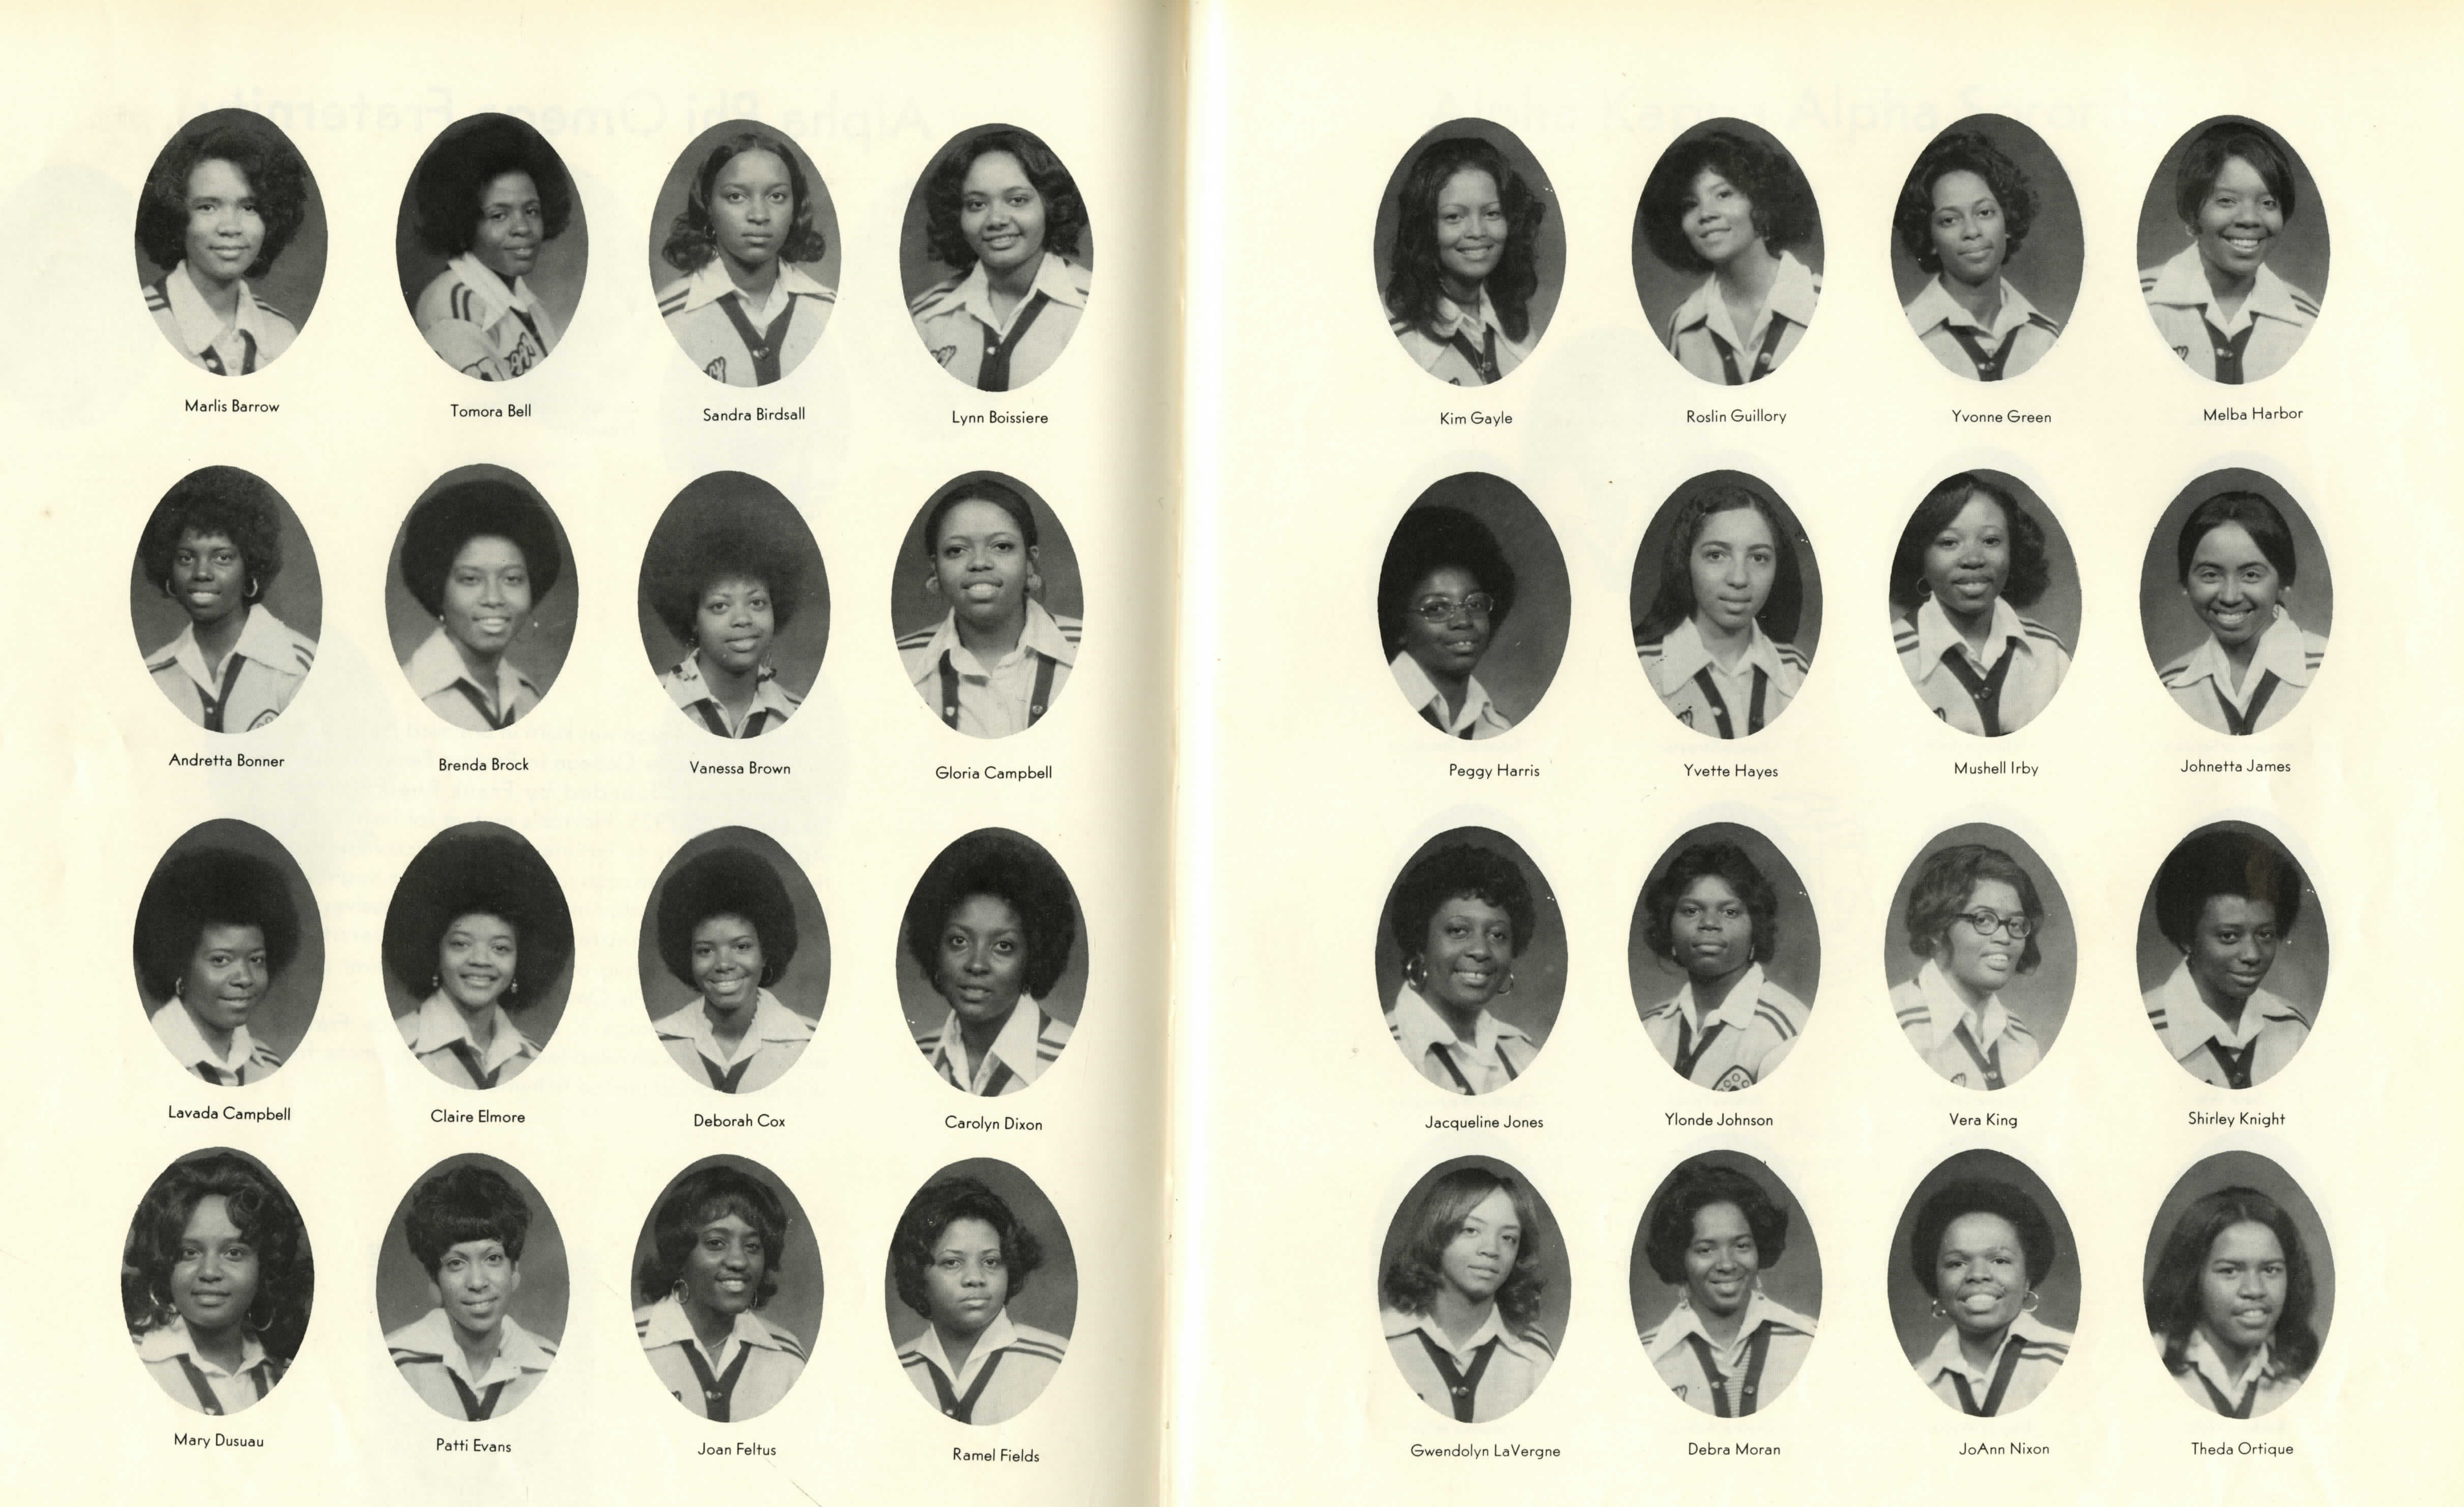

James Montgomery
President

Alpha Phi Omega was born in Brainerd Hall now Hozz Hall, at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania. The fraternity was founded by Frank Reed Horton on December 16, 1925. Horton's motive for instituting this organization was to initiate one which could withstand the test of time; an organization which men might better the conditions of other men, as well as themselves.

Chi Upsilon chapter, at Dillard University, was founded in the spring of 1971, and is an ever growing chapter of Alpha Phi Omega.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service Fraternity whose aim is to develop leadership, to promote friendship and provide service to humanity.

Delta Sigma Theta was founded in 1913 at Howard University. The twenty-two who were its founders envisioned an organization of college women that would minimize the purely social aspects of Sorority life.

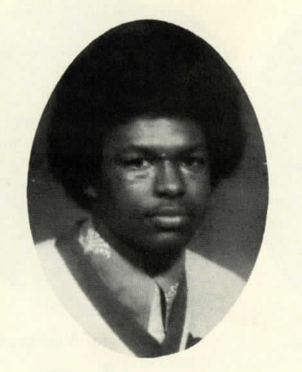

Today, women of all races and faiths who meet the requirements in character, scholarship, and citizenship responsibility are welcomed into membership in Delta Sigma Theta. From the small original group, Delta has grown to embrace 20,000 women with 240 chapters in 46 states and Haiti.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority had its beginning at Howard University, January 16, 1920. Members of Phi Beta Sigma Charles Robert and Samuel Taylor spoke to a young lady, Arizona Cleavor, concerning the establishment of a sister organization at the University. The young lady willingly accepted the task and immediately began to work upon it.

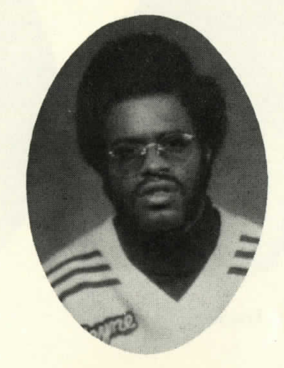

Thus as a result, Zeta Phi Beta was founded as a sister organization of Phi Beta Sigma.

A Message From the Student Union President

The word challenge has many meanings. The most appropriate one used; in this context, is an invitation into competition. This is one of the many reasons we are here. We are preparing for competition that exists today and will be more pronounced tomorrow. Tomorrow will not be the same spatial entity for all of us. For some of us it will be sooner; for others it will be later. However, all of us plan for a tomorrow, and should all be prepared.

How do we go about this? There is no standard procedure, for each of us are travelling by different roads to reach the same destination. The road we take is dependent upon what competition we plan to engage in. However, for whatever competition it will be, we plan to be prepared.

Preparation is the key to meeting tomorrow's challenge. The time for preparation is today. That is what gives today its special importance. Today is what we're all about, for it is today when the hardest work is being done. The preparation for any competition is usually harder than the actual competition. This is true because it is the preparation which usually decides the competition. It is imperative for all of us to fully utilize today for a challenge that we all face. We must be prepared for competition or we might not be invited.

Earl Washington, Jr.

From the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs

The 1974 yearbook was put together by an Acting Yearbook Committee which consisted of only three students. These students voluntarily assumed responsibility for this yearbook during mid-summer, 1974. They managed to accomplish, in a period of two weeks, a task which the appointed yearbook editor and staff failed to accomplish during the academic year.

The Office of the Dean of Student Affairs commends Miss Lydia Manuel, Miss Ethel Hudson and Miss Lana Carter for the splendid work which made this yearbook a reality; their efforts, we are sure, reflect the true spirit of Dillard students.

Dr. Norman Roussell
